

OUR POLICY

SINCE The Hobby Directory is dependent entirely upon the use of government postal services for the distribution of its publications, and since the basic purpose of The Directory is to promote friendly contacts among its members, nearly all of which must be made through the mails, it is the declared purpose of The Directory, and an implied condition of membership, to conform completely and unqualifiedly to all rules and regulations of the Post Office Department. This is more than good business or fair play—it is good citizenship.

NOTE: The paragraph above is being republished for your special attention. A former member recently got into serious trouble on account of not following this policy.
